

Should McCarthy Step Down?

Polo, Ill.,
March 18, 1954
To T.R.T. of
"Take It From Here":

Obviously Lincoln could not have meant McCarthy, either—to follow the line of reasoning in your column. But OBVIOUSLY you wanted us to think of McCarthy as we read the excerpts from Lincoln's speech. The descriptions of the mob scenes fit so aptly the exact pattern of what happens under Communism that it might be used as a description of what goes on behind the Iron Curtain today.

Using some of the cold, calculated, unimpassioned reasoning that Lincoln referred to let's analyze the situation.

How many hangings and burnings have been instigated by McCarthy? How much burning, shooting, torture, and mayhem do we hear of all the time committed by Communists? This quote from an article in the "Post", "New York's Communists Cop" shows how Communists hold court:

"Lautner went, but, warily, he told a Cleveland hotel clerk where he was going. It was well he did, for the hearing was held in a cellar and manned not by party leaders competent to deal with his case, but by party thugs. Lautner said he was severely beaten, even slugged with a baseball bat. He is sure his assailants intended to kill him, and would have done so if he had not told them that he left a trail that would lead the F.B.I. to the house."

"This is only one example. I could quote many as given in testimony by ex-Communists. McCarthy's sarcasm, which Gen. Zwicker deserved, was a far cry from beatings in a cellar. It is time that we, as a nation, stopped to think for ourselves instead of becoming worked up and hysterical enough to ascribe Lincoln's references to actual mob action and would-be dictators—to McCarthy."

To paraphrase Lincoln—a man who wants to attain distinction may choose to do it by good means until he runs out them and then will proceed to tear down what is good. If we must accept your scheme of taking this would-be dictator to be McCarthy—he hasn't run out of good things to do. There are plenty of Communists to be rooted out yet. Even if all the editors and writers, professors, ministers, the President and other government officials, and the people got behind his efforts, it would be difficult enough to deal with the situation. Think it over, was that column called for and was it fair?

Sincerely,
A friend of McCarthy.

Writers Note: The column referred to was intended as an historical footnote to an event in the news. It was interesting to us that two men, both prominent, used the same Lincoln speech to support opposing arguments. We think it only fair that our readers have a chance to understand the background and circumstances of the original speech.

Two quotes do not make a speech, and we thought it might be of value to explore a little-known Lincoln speech that had been revived in the 1934 controversy. Readers are free to interpret Lincoln's words as they choose.

RELECT CHIANG

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China's Assembly today re-elected President Chiang Kai-shek as expected by an overwhelming majority of 1,567 to 48. The 67-year-old soldier-statesman will serve a six-year term. His opponent was Democratic Socialist leader Hsu Fu-lin.

Possibly You've Forgotten Something

MOTORISTS WHO FAILED to obtain 1954 automobile license plates tangled today with the law in Dixon. State police and secretary of state investigators pictured above at the Galena avenue-Seventh street intersection frowned on drivers with 1953 plates. In fact, drivers of cars sporting plates other than the legal green and white for this year were arrested. Not only are they subject to a fine in justice of the peace court, they were required to apply for plates on the spot. The officers reported only one motorist stopped this morning forgot to apply for a license. Most of the drivers with 1953 plates had evidence that application had been made.

Will Inoculate 370,000 With Test Polio Vaccine Field Experiments Will Begin About April 12

NEW YORK (AP)—Enough commercial manufactured trial vaccine to inoculate more than 370,000 children will be available for the polio field tests about April 12, it was announced today.

Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, made the statement in a "status report" to all state health officers.

After April 12, he added, "vaccine will be coming forth at a continuous rate to enable us to move rapidly toward the completion of the field trials which will include between 500,000 and a million school children in the first three elementary grades.

The vaccine to be used will be that developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk, of the University of Pittsburgh under a grant from the foundation.

Van Riper said Salk would begin today inoculating 2,500 children in the Pittsburgh area with vaccine produced commercially in accordance with Salk's specifications. Salk already has used vaccine produced in his own laboratory on about 5,000 children.

Van Riper said the response of states to the foundation's invitation to participate in the trials has been "overwhelmingly favorable."

He said 44 states already have indicated their desire to be included.

Rockford Man Dies When Car Overtakes on Rt. 51

PAWPAW—A Lee county coroner's jury ruled Sunday night the death of a Rockford man in an auto accident was accidental and said death was due to a fractured neck.

Arthur Miller, 36, employee of a Rockford manufacturing company, was killed instantly Saturday night when his car went out of control and rolled several times on Rt. 51 about nine miles north of Mendota.

State Police Officers John Woods and Robert Nichols investigated the accident. The inquest was conducted by Deputy Coroner Robert Torman, Pawpaw.

Miller was traveling north, and his car went to the left side of the

Adm. Radford Sees Victory For French

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, said today "the French are going to win" the critical Indochina battle at Dien Bien Phu.

He said the United States "will certainly consider" sending more B26 bombers to aid the French forces if there is such a request.

Radford made his remarks to reporters at the White House after conferring for 30 minutes with President Eisenhower, along with Gen. Paul Ely, chief of staff of the French armed forces.

Radford said there is no request for more aid now that he knows of, but he added that the aid program to Indochina is being discussed and modified daily, depending on requirements.

Gen. Ely in talking with reporters said his current three-day visit, at Radford's invitation, does not involve specific discussions of additional American military aid.

Rockford College Trustee Is Dead

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Mrs. Mabel Walker Herrick, former vice president of the Daughters of the American Revolution and a trustee of Rockford College for 50 years, died Saturday. She was 87.

Mrs. Herrick's husband, Charles E. Herrick, at one time president of the American Meat Institute, died in 1952.

22 Patrols Compete in First Aid

Twenty-two Boy Scout patrols participated Saturday night in the Neighborhood First Aid meet in the Dixon armory.

Teams entered in the meet came from Dixon, Ashton, Franklin Grove, East Jordan and Eldena.

Composed of five members and two "victims," each team was given an opportunity to demonstrate abilities in meeting emergencies. Approximately 160 boys and 40 adults participated in the meet in the capacity of contestants, judges, "doctors," recorders and other officials.

Scout patrols included in the competition were Troops 85, 86, 93, 89, all of Dixon; 74, East Jordan; 107 Nachusa; 109, Ashton; 110, Franklin Grove; 112, Eldena, and combined troops 93 and 85, Dixon.

Scout patrols receiving an "A" are qualified to participate in the Sauk district First Aid meet Saturday at the Armory. Patrols from the Dixon meet, from Sterling and from Morrison will compete.

The Flying Eagle, Raccoon, and Lion patrols from East Jordan, the Eagle and Crew One from Dixon's Troop 85 and the Bone Heads from Troop 89, Dixon, each were awarded an "A" rating.

U.S. May Ask Chinese To Free 32 Americans

Issue May Materialize At Geneva

Estimate 100 Are Retained; 32 in Communist Prison

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States may press Red China directly, for the first time, at the Geneva conference for the release of 32 Americans believed jailed behind the Bamboo Curtain.

State department officials said this possibility is being studied in connection with preparations for the Far East peace conference scheduled April 26 at Geneva, Switzerland.

The United States does not recognize the Communist regime in China. Its previous attempts to secure freedom for Americans imprisoned in China have been made in the United Nations or through Britain, Russia or some other third party.

The Geneva conference, with Red Chinese representatives present, will provide an opportunity for a direct demand from the United States.

American officials estimate about 100 U.S. citizens, primarily missionaries and businessmen, are being held in Red China against their will. Exact figures are difficult to come by, since many who claim American citizenship actually are not Americans.

Of the 100 inside China, 32 are reported to be in prison.

McCarthy Halted When He Questions Atty. Gen. Brownell

WASHINGTON (AP)—Protests from other senators stopped Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) today from public questioning of Atty. Gen. Brownell about what McCarthy described as a "pigeonholed" case of a newspaperman.

Brownell promised to write McCarthy a letter about it.

Naming no names, McCarthy brought the matter up when Brownell came before a Senate appropriations subcommittee to discuss the Justice Department's money needs.

Other senators immediately objected to going into it. The matter was dropped when Brownell said he would give McCarthy a report on it Tuesday.

Brighter Days Ahead

THE FIRST CHAPTER IN THE LIFE of Georgianni, three-legged Cocker spaniel, came to a close Saturday in the Collins-Densmore animal hospital, near Dixon, and a brighter episode began. Oblivious of her handicap, she joyously greeted her new masters, Richard, 5, and David Walker, 12, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Walker, 903 E. Chamberlin st. Richard and David, both students at Washington school, first met Georgianni several weeks ago. She limped around on three legs, the left foreleg was paralyzed, apparently from an old injury. Her plight was called to the attention of local veterinarians by Washington school students. Although the operation was serious, the useless leg was amputated. Fully recovered, Georgianni can look ahead to a happy life with loved ones.

Dr. Earl White, West Brooklyn, Dies Sunday

MENDOTA (Special)—Dr. Earl C. White, 83, who practiced medicine in West Brooklyn for 46 years and in Dixon state hospital for 11 years, died Sunday night in Mendota Community hospital where he had been a patient 11 days.

Dr. White retired from practice at the state school last October due to failing health. He also served as president of the West Brooklyn Red Cross chapter for many years and resigned less than two weeks ago.

He was a member of the 50-Year club of the American Medical Association, a past officer of the Lee County Medical Association, a member of the Illinois Medical Society and a member of the Masonic lodge in Compton.

His residence was in West Brooklyn. Dr. White was born in Chateaugay, N. Y., Nov. 4, 1870, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carey White. The family moved to Pawpaw, and Dr. White received his education at Keokuk Medical school, Keokuk, Ia., and Rush Medical school, Chicago.

He practiced in West Brooklyn from 1896 to 1942, when he began working at the Dixon state school.

He married Carrie G. Johnson, West Brooklyn, Jan. 1, 1896. She preceded him in death Nov. 11, 1952. A son, Clarence, died in 1949.

Survivors are a son, Earl C. White Jr., Oconomowoc, Wis.; a daughter, Mrs. Robert (Geneva) Klenfall, Spring Valley; six grandchildren, and a sister, Dr. Marion White, Dixon.

Funeral services will be held in Bailey funeral home, Mendota, Wednesday at 2 p. m. with the Rev. Webster Hobbs, of Pawpaw Methodist church, officiating. Burial will be in Union cemetery, West Brooklyn. Friends may call in the funeral home after 7 p. m. today.

The premature baby was born to Mrs. James L. Newton of Madison, and was to be fed her first meal today through a tube.

A hospital spokesman said chances of the baby surviving are 5 per cent. Mrs. Newton was reported doing fine.

Ogle County Bomb Plot Investigation Bogs Down

Mystery of Who Planted Dynamite Bomb in Sheriff's Car Is Unsolved

OREGON (Special)—The investigation into Saturday's spectacular bomb incident bogged down during the weekend.

The Ogle county sheriff's office today reported no new developments in the case. The bomb squad which Sheriff James White said he had called from Chicago still had not arrived today.

The homemade bomb was discovered in the sheriff's car early Saturday. Night Deputy Sheriff Lee Westerman found the bomb early Saturday as he was preparing to use the car for a routine assignment.

The device consisted of five sticks of dynamite taped to a two-quart jar of naphtha gas in a paper carton. The smoke from a sputtering five-foot fuse alerted Westerman to the danger as he entered the auto. He threw the bomb about 35 feet from the auto. Investigation showed the fuse was extinguished.

Officials said they have been unable to determine the motive behind the placing of the bomb. They are trying to find the source of the material used in making the bomb.

GOP Studies Procedures In Army Quiz

Senator Suggests Lie Detectors Be Used During Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sentiment appeared to be building up among senate Republican leaders today that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) should step all the way off his investigations subcommittee while it looks into his roaring quarrel with the army.

From McCarthy came announcement of a tentative decision not to do so and a suggestion that the committee employ lie detectors to get at the truth of his controversy with Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens.

The subcommittee plans to meet Tuesday to discuss procedure for its hearings, no date for which has been fixed.

Wants Lie Test

McCarthy, voicing "complete confidence in this scientific instrument when it is operated properly," said he will suggest then the use of lie detectors if all the witnesses agree. He plans to testify himself.

"The American public is entitled to the truth in the matters we are about to investigate in Washington," the senator said in a statement. "... I plan to recommend to the... subcommittee... that it ask all witnesses who may have knowledge of this case, including myself, whether they would be willing to submit to a scientific lie detector test."

"It is up to the full subcommittee to determine whether this is proper procedure."

Knowland's View

Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, said in an interview he doesn't want to interfere in the committee's functions, but he thinks McCarthy should volunteer not to question witnesses nor to vote on issues before the group. McCarthy has said he plans not to vote "on any final decisions or conclusions" of the subcommittee.

On the other hand, Sen. Potter (R-Mich.), a member of McCarthy's subcommittee, said he for one isn't going to insist that McCarthy give up his place as a committee member, even temporarily, if the Wisconsin senator chooses another course. Besides McCarthy, the group includes three Republicans and three Democrats.

McCarthy said in a statement Sunday he had agreed with Sen. Mundt (R-SD), who will preside over the hearings, that he should

Three Hurt In Collision On Blacktop

AMBOY (Special)—Three persons, including an Amboy man, were injured Sunday evening in a two-car collision on the Amboy-Walton blacktop road two miles west of Amboy.

Eldon Myers, Rt. 1, Amboy, was reported in "fair" condition today in KSB hospital. Dixon. He suffered injuries to his right shoulder and left hand.

Two persons were riding in the second car involved. Ralph Carey, 48, DeKalb, was hospitalized in KSB hospital with an injured left knee and facial lacerations. He was reported in "fair" condition.

Myrtle Carey, also DeKalb, received first aid treatment in the hospital and was dismissed.

Car Owner Objects To Fast Paint Job

The car of a Dixon motorist got a fast paint job Saturday night, one that didn't meet with the approval of the owner.

According to Dixon police, Garland Knigge, Ogletree place, Dixon, went into the United Lumber, 125 Galena avenue, at 10 p. m. When he returned to his car a half hour later he found the roof of his car spotted with red paint.

As yet, police have not determined if the spraying was accidental or the result of malicious mischief.

Hedrick Leads Polo Unit School Voting

Elect Seven-Man Board To Govern New District

POLO—Voters in the Polo area Saturday elected the first board of education to govern the newly-formed Polo Community unit school district.

The board will include seven men from the field of 14 candidates. The successful candidates and the number of votes they received are:

Robert R. Hedrick, Lincoln township, 485; Austin Stahler, Buffalo, 418; J. Mason Hopkins, Pine Creek, 401; Robert Copenhaver, Buffalo, 392; Herbert Coffman, Pine Creek, 392; C. L. Drennan, Buffalo, 374; Vernon Cassens, Waukegan, 370.

The new board members will meet tonight in Polo high school to organize and elect a president and secretary from its membership. The men will draw lots to determine the length of terms they will serve. Two will serve one year; two will serve two years, and three will serve three years.

Unsuccessful candidates in the voting and the number of votes they received were:

Henry Kitzmiller, Lincoln township, 293; Rudolph W. Ziegler, Buffalo, 262; George D. Brown, Eagle Point, 211; Willard Gilbert, Waukegan, 204; Harry Wuebben, Eagle Point, 191; J. V. Reim, Buffalo, 98; Marion Maxey, Pine Creek, 88.

The new unit district was approved by the voters Feb. 20, by a vote of 866 to 410. The new board will take over operations of the district July 1. The area includes land in the present Polo high school district.

Michigan is credited with setting up the first U. S. agricultural college in 1859.

Vets Service Officers Will Meet Friday

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. —(Special)—Illinois American Legion headquarters here announced that the Legion is cooperating with the Veterans Administration in scheduling five downstate meetings to assist and inform volunteer service officers in handling rehabilitation and other claims.

The meeting for the Dixon area is scheduled in East Moline Friday at 7:15 p.m. in the American Legion hall, 1305 Fifth av.

Conducting the meetings will be six representatives of the Chicago VA regional office.

They will be accompanied by Lester R. Benston, Chicago, state Legion rehabilitation director, who attended the Legion's annual rehabilitation conference with VA officials in Washington, D. C., March 2-5.

Benston reported to state Legion headquarters that the Washington conference voted to "take off the gloves" in opposing an American Medical Association move to deny hospitalization to war-service veterans needing treatment for non-service-connected disabilities.

The meetings will be open to service officers of all veterans organizations.

Farm Planning Exceeds Quota For Corn Crop

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — The State - Federal Agriculture Department has reported that Illinois farmers intend to plant 1,575,478 more acres of corn this year than the figure set under the government's corn allotment program.

Farmers intend to plant 9,100,000 acres the department said. The state's 1954 corn planting allotment has been fixed at 7,524,522 acres under the government's plan to cut production because corn stocks are at near peak.

Only those farmers who comply with their individual allotments will be eligible for price supports of 90 per cent of parity or about $1.60 a bushel. None is required to abide by the allotments.

Intentions of the farmers, the department said, were to plant 4,300,000 acres of soybeans, a new state record of carried out I would top last year's acreage by 400,000 acres.

Oats will increase 6 per cent over last year with 3,400,000 acres being sown. Hay acreage for this year is expected to be 2,733,000, up 5 per cent from last year.

A sharp decline in wheat sown last fall has been indicated by growers, the department said. They expect to use acreage so diverted mainly for hay and other small grains.

Rye and barley acreages are expected to be more than doubled. The department said "If amounts and distribution of rainfall in the months ahead are near normal, Illinois can be expected to produce satisfactory crops."

Ike's 'Little Prayer' Becomes Big Symbol

By KENNETH O. GILMORE

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Ten thousand beautifully engraved copies of President Eisenhower's inaugural "little prayer of my own" are now being presented to Americans who have given distinguished service to the United States Savings Bonds program.

These distinctive awards, framed in wood from the platform on which he took the oath of office, haven't cost the Treasury one cent. It is a cooperative effort of individuals, associations and commercial concerns across the land.

The story of how those few and simple words, composed by the President the very morning of the inauguration, snowballed into a huge project for the betterment of the nation, is a story of generosity.

At first the Treasury department simply arranged to keep a few planks from the inaugural stand. The Hechinger Co., of Washington, handling the salvaging, gladly gave this wood.

But a visitor from Vermont, looking for a souvenir himself, spotted the boards marked for use by the Treasury. Immediately the Vermont State Development Commission offered to process the lumber for some worthwhile cause.

Then Francis V. Keessling Jr., of San Francisco dug deep and insisted on buying the remaining 6,800 feet of lumber. The Treasury accepted his gift.

Then, top men in the greeting card industry offered to make thousands of fine engravings of the prayer. Strangely their unprompted decision to do this was reached in the same hotel suite where Eisenhower had composed his prayer.

Other volunteers pitched in. Looking back, officials at the Treasury are still amazed at the sequence of events that followed. As needs arose they were almost mystically fulfilled.

An outstanding Washington architect, Thomas Hall Lockett, and a curator from the National Gallery of Art designed the simple frame. Glass arrived from the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. The navy's model basin kiln-dried the unseasoned wood.

Local craftsmen throughout Vermont undertook to cut and shape all the boards. It wasn't easy. The Southern pine planks were of low quality with nail holes—and sometimes nails—every three inches.

The lumber was hauled north by the District of Columbia Trucking Association and New England affiliates. Boxes and cartons for packaging the awards were donated by Massachusetts industries.

Vermont youth tackled one of the most difficult parts of the whole project, that of final assembly. The Burlington Boys club devoted untold hours to this task. Ten thousand awards had to be put together. They completed roughly 6,000, and now the junior high and trade schools of St. Johnsbury, Vt., are taking over.

Last June Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower received the first savings bonds award from Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey. It was a large size replica and now rests beside the original manuscript of the prayer in the Library of Congress.

One of the young boys from Burlington was given the honor of making the presentation along with Humphrey.

On that occasion the Secretary said, "Not only is this an award for volunteers, it is an award created by volunteers."

To date approximately 400 per-

THE PRESIDENT'S PRAYER

Almighty God, as we stand here at this moment, my future associates in the executive branch of the Government join me in beseeching that Thou will make full and complete our dedication to the service of the people in this throng and their fellow citizens everywhere.

Give us, we pray, the power to discern clearly right from wrong and allow all our words and actions to be governed thereby and by the laws of this land.

Especially we pray that our concern shall be for all the people, regardless of station, race or calling. May cooperation be permitted and be the mutual aim of those who, under the concept of our Constitution, hold to differing political beliefs—so that all may work for the good of our beloved country and for Thy glory. Amen

June Haver, Fred McMurray Deny Wedding Plans

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress June Haver and actor Fred McMurray are back from South America today both denying they have wedding plans.

They arrived in Los Angeles by plane from Panama Sunday night with actor Walter Pidgeon on the last lap of a return trip from Sao Paulo, Brazil, and the International Film Festival.

"No, we do not," Miss Haver replied when asked if she and McMurray contemplated marriage. His reply was "ask Joan Fontaine."

MacMurray, 45, and a widower, referred to reports that the actress had said in Miami, Fla., that he and Miss Haver, 27, were planning a wedding.

When first asked about the wedding reports last week, the actor told reporters, "It's too early to talk about marriage. We have no definite plans."

Justice Daily Appears Assured Of GOP Approval

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Democrat and Republicans of the 8th Supreme Court Judicial District will meet in Peoria this week with no Democratic candidate in sight to oppose the Republican incumbent, Justice Joseph E. Daily of Peoria.

Republican conventions have been held in all 10 counties of the district and all have been instructed to vote for Daily at the GOP district convention today.

The Peoria County Democratic Committee, representing the largest county in the district, also has voted to endorse Daily at the Democratic district convention Thursday. The Democrats said in a resolution that neither Peoria County Democrats nor those of other counties in the district had produced a candidate.

The district comprises these counties: Knox, Peoria, Bureau, Stark, Grundy, Woodford, Henry, Putnam, LaSalle and Marshall.

Justice Daily first was elected to the State Supreme Court in 1948 as successor to Justice Clyde E. Stone of Peoria. This election will be for a full nine-year term. Daily had no opposition on the ballot in 1948. He received 6,573 votes to 30 scattered write-ins.

Invalid Dentist Dies in Blaze

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—A 70-year-old retired dentist, confined to a wheel chair, was burned to death Sunday when fire broke out in his home.

The victim, Dr. C. E. Comer, was alone on the first floor of the house, where the blaze was believed to have started.

Two University of Illinois students, roomers at the house, jumped to safety from second floor windows. The students, John B. Gugala of Chicago and Capt. Marvin Stock of the U. S. Army, told police they tried to rescue Dr. Comer but were driven back by flames.

Gugala suffered bruises and shock and was treated at Burnham City hospital. Capt. Stock was not injured.

Jobless Man Has Stake In U.S. Economic Trend

Some New England Areas Feeling Pinch of Downturn

By SAM DAWSON

BOSTON (AP)—The man out of a job—and there are a lot more of them in the nation now than a year ago—has the biggest personal stake today in the direction the nation's economy is taking.

To the statistician the total of the unemployed tells a lot about the business story. But to the man himself it's a lot more than just being a figure in a table.

In New England thousands are out of work—some because, perhaps like you or your neighbor, their factory is going slow until some topheavy inventories are whittled—but many more because their textile mill has gone out of business.

Trade Is Down

Merchants will tell you that in mill towns where this has happened retail trade is down—though it may be as good as ever elsewhere.

Service stations are seeing a return of the customer who asks for just 50 cents worth of gasoline. This isn't the picture of New England as a whole, but only of its few distressed areas. And they are offset by generally healthy industrial conditions.

The jobless textile worker is a special problem here. Some who lost their jobs when mills closed down have found work in other kinds of factories, or in the service or retail trades. These are mostly persons under 40.

Many elderly workers and many young wives have just stepped out of the labor force.

Draw Compensation

Most of the jobless are drawing unemployment compensation. But around 1,300 of these drop off the rolls each week, having exhausted the benefits allowed.

New England officials have been working hard for solutions to the problem. The six states have programs under way to attract new industries, help them get zoning changed, help them finance construction.

The regional office of the Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics stresses that "apart from textiles, New England manufacturing industries fared about as well as their counterparts in other sections of the country."

But total non-farm employment in New England in January was running 72,000 below that of the previous year. The drop in textile jobs in the 12-month period was 50,000.

Recent Slide

Most of the slide in manufacturing payrolls has been since last September, BLS says. And it stresses that for 1953 as a whole New England's workrolls were the highest on record except for the peak years of World War II.

With consumer sales in the nation now running higher than factory output, New Englanders hope this means that the nation is about through cutting inventories and ready to start producing again.

Realistic Appraisal of Need Must
Keynote ANY Tax Relief

In their rebuttal to President Eisenhower's tax speech, leading Democrats said they propose tax relief "for the many" while the president offers it "for the few." The issue is really not half so simple as that.

What the Democrats propose, in Senator George's plan, is to increase personal income tax exemptions from the present $600 per person to $800, and ultimately to $1000.

There is no question that this is real tax relief for the many. It would excuse an estimated 15 million citizens from paying any tax at all. The saving to them would range from more than $4 billion to a final $8 billion according to expert guesses.

The Democrats present this plan with the argument that it is necessary as a means of stimulating business and lifting the country out of its current economic recession.

Economists may disagree on the question whether this much stimulation is needed now. Yet one cannot fairly question the sincerity of some who support the proposal.

Nevertheless, it has serious shortcomings. The George plan has been offered entirely out of context without any reference to the government's overall financial problem—particularly to the size of the deficit it would create. In that sense, it is highly irresponsible.

A tax relief program is the easiest thing in the world to devise, and it has automatic political salability. But one may rightly ask: "Is it necessarily good for the country?"

Borrowing to pay the government's bills has its own set of evils. Inflation is one, but the others are unhappily a little less immediate.

The record indicates that past Democratic regimes have found it rather easy to forget these future burdens.

Mr. Eisenhower inherited a colossal public debt and a proposed 1953-54 budget that would have added many billions to it. Since then he has been earnestly engaged in what amounts to a bold experiment—to learn whether it is possible for America to live safely and well in a time of trouble without going far into the red.

To that end, his administration sharply cut expenses for the 1953-54 year. ($12 billion), and planned further reductions in following years. A modest amount of tax relief was allowed Jan. 1, 1954, but the president held that further relief must await further cuts in spending, so the budget could be brought in balance.

That is still his plan. The comprehensive tax revision bill Republicans are sponsoring is not a tax relief bill in essence, but a thorough, badly needed revamping of the whole tax structure to eliminate inequities, confusion and overlapping.

It does offer more relief for business than for individuals as Democrats say. But these measures are designed to stimulate business and encourage investment—not for a short-run recession or even a depression, but for the long pull.

Unjustly, the Democrats have sought to picture this long-range revision as the administration's "answer to the recession."

It is nothing of the sort. And any new tax relief bill which does emerge from congress ought to be more scientifically designed than the George plan, which bears no relation to the burdens the government faces and would relieve many millions from any share at all in the cost of supporting their government.

The Mature Parent
Our Conflicting Sex Codes
Offer Only Chaos to Youth

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Harvard sociologist Pitirim A. Sorokin thinks there's danger of our going "sex crazy." Reminding us that we're exposed to "some kind of sexual lure every nine minutes," he suggests that the frequency of our exposure to these lures accounts for our exaggerated interest in sex.

If we go crazy, it won't be because the lures are so frequent, but because they are so contradictory. If the lures were always the same, they'd grow so boring that we wouldn't react to them.

It's the perpetual changing of the lures that confuses us. For as each insists on a new standard of appearance or behavior, men and women don't know any longer what to expect of themselves or each other. The changing standards keep us so anxious about our own sex appeal that we can't get sex off our minds.

The fact is, you and I are sending our children into a pretty tough sexual society. We do not define boy-girl expectations and conduct for our young people as our countries traditionally and universally define them to theirs.

The sex codes that do survive here are targets for pot-shots by critics who have neither the wisdom nor kindness to restrain their destructiveness until we either revise the old codes or make new ones.

So right now, what we offer children is the chaos of confusion and guilt that results from "every man for himself" codes.

Every day they are bombarded with some new standard of effective sex conduct. Just think of the decisions they have to sweat out without help from traditional and trusted codes.

Should Mary pet—or not? Should she listen to Mother—or Dr. Kinsey? Should she give boys movie stien allure—or behave like Jo in "Little Women"? Should she try to "manage" boys—or tell them to manage themselves? Should she show one she likes him—or make him chase? Did he kiss her last night because he likes her—or was he just "testing" her for cheapness?

No universally accepted code provides the answer to these tormenting questions. Why wouldn't we be sex-obsessed? If each of us has to make his individual sex code, we'll have sex on our minds until we've done it.

As things are, making such a code can take a lifetime—or a psychiatrist—with everyone from parents to Dr. Kinsey and movie press agents shrieking conflicting ideas at us.

It's human triumph that men and women dare so much as speak to one another, let alone get married.

So They Say

A modernized security should be geared to developments in electronics, air power and atomic power. That kind of security is well within our economic capacity.

The sliding scale (of farm supports) would definitely slide the farmers of the nation into bankruptcy.

We get not permit ourselves to get mousetrapped into another defensive war.

Wherever it is necessary to fulfill our responsibilities to the nations of the free world we (U.S.) must insure that tactical air (power) is adequate force.

—Gen. G. F. Woyland.

Working on Ike's Railroad

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE
JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Close-ups and Longshots: It's a surprise to Marie Wilson that she's being tagged as a Duse because of the added pathos she's being called upon to show as the new Irma, and because her surprise emoting in "Marry Me Again," with Robert Cummings.

But even with the acing plum of the year, as the star of James M. Barrie's "A Kiss for Cinderella" on TV's "Omnibus," Marie's anguishing it:

"Television forces you to be a good actress. You have to use everything you've ever known and lots you don't realize you know. I don't have big dreams about Academy awards."

"If I can just make a living following in Gracie Allen's footsteps, I'll be very proud. That's good enough for me."

Jimmy Stewart is answering the critics who charged that a bit of make-up could have made him look more like the famed musician in "The Glenn Miller Story."

Jimmy's theory: "Mrs. Miller said that Glenn and I were similar in general movement. I don't think it's important to try to look like the man you're portraying. You spend all your time trying to look the part and there's no time to concentrate on acting."

"I think you trap yourself that way. You're being a parrot — a mimic — not an actor."

Sultry, dark-eyed Roberta Haynes asked Columbia to tear up her contract after losing out to Donna Reed for the heyden role in "From Here to Eternity."

Discouraged now about career? Not Roberta, who says: "I'll never give up. I think I'm a good actress. But I also think I create excitement by my physical presence, and that's what makes a star."

TRUE-NO FALSE

Pier Angel about a trip to Italy: "Big Crowds meet me at the airport. They say to me that they hear all stars in Hollywood wear false things and do I wear false things? I say to them that it's all publicity, that only some girls in Hollywood wear false things and that I do not wear them. They say they are very glad and they are happy."

Mona Freeman hasn't made a movie in more than a year, but she's denying that she's bored about her career or that she's thinking of chucking the marquee glory for marriage.

She's still under contract to RKO, and says: "I think they're trying to wear me down. They're hoping that they can finally give me something that isn't good and that I'll be desperate enough to take it. What I want is a good role in a good movie."

Melinda Markey recently co-starred with Mama Joan in a telefilm, "You're Only Young Once," for Bing Crosby Enterprises, and she's confessing:

"I thought I'd never get through it. We had been on the stage together, but facing a camera together—that's different. I was scared stiff at the idea of working with mother. She's my toughest critic. I won't be afraid of anything now."

AGING BY DEGREES

Department of Eccentricity: Dr. Edith Sitwell, the bizarre British lady of letters brought to Hollywood by Columbia studio to adapt her own "Fanfare for Elizabeth" for the screen, always checks the temperature before telling anyone her age. If the thermometer reads 80 degrees, Dr. Sitwell owns up to being 80. When it's 101, that's her age at the moment.

Ricardo Montalban has been bailing 1000 at MGM as a romantic via-via to Lana Turner, Esther Williams, Jane Powell, Shelley Winters and other celluloid queens. The Latin's wordage on making love in front of a camera:

"I was never scared. When you work with big stars like Lana, you know something is expected of you by the public. You have to measure up to her. So you assume an attitude, you think more on a romantic basis and you give the love scenes more. You can't show any self-doubt about yourself as a movie lover."

The Doctor Says:

Parkinson's Disease Slow to Develop, Is Long-Lasting

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

A reader says she has a dear friend who has been told by one physician that she has Parkinson's disease and by two others that she has a nervous condition with malnutrition. The friend has had a tremor of the hands, and walks—according to the description—as though her feet were glued to the floor.

Obviously, I cannot make any comment about the illness of a person I have not seen, but I can discuss Parkinson's disease in general.

Parkinson's disease is a curious condition, sometimes known as paralysis agitans, or shaking palsy. Generally, it begins slowly, usually in one hand, and the shaking, which may not be present all of the time, is present when at rest. Some loss of muscular strength and stiffness may be noticed at the same time.

Muscular movements take place more slowly and with greater difficulty. The walk is "shuffling" and quite characteristic. Some other symptoms, especially a tendency to lack of expressiveness in the face, may be present.

Sometimes severe anxiety or mental or physical shock seems to bring on the symptoms. The same symptoms may come from called epidemic encephalitis, which is a virus infection of the brain sometimes spoken of as American sleeping sickness.

It is a nervous condition because it comes from damage to a certain portion of the brain not connected with the thinking processes. Probably the most common form is that which develops in older people—men more often than women—as a result of some obscure process which may be connected with hardening of the arteries or some unknown cause.

The shaking may improve from time to time. Parkinson's disease develops slowly and tends to last for a great many years. There is no pain and the mental condition is usually normal except perhaps after the disease has existed for many years when thinking may be somewhat slowed.

SOME DRUGS HELP

Strenuous activity or entertainment should be avoided, but a fairly active life with some work is generally desirable. There are several drugs which are often helpful in controlling the tremors, though complete cure cannot be expected. Cold water treatments, special exercises, sun baths, massage and vitamin preparations have all been tried without much success. Surgery has been attempted in some cases with results on which medical men are not yet thoroughly agreed. There is need for improved methods of treatment and prevention, and research may bring this about.

WASHINGTON—Temporarily at least the anti-McCarthy forces have stopped Joe McCarthy and subdued his gallant young associate, Roy Cohn. Strangely, Senator Charles Potter, of Michigan, a Republican, but a Greenhorn of frail political fortitude, has done the most decisive dirty work.

Cohn is an amazingly bright and diligent young man. He has had to fight against well-meaning but misled individuals in his own native personal social circle in New York. In much of the press, McCarthy, Cohn and G. David Schine, a volunteer warrior against the treason, have been abused with hideous accusations and insinuations.

Westbrook Pegler

Cohn is 27 years old, a prodigy who completed his college and law courses in 3 years, the son of religious parents who also have suffered much for their boy's devotion to the campaign against treachery and the corruption of patriotism. His father is a judge of the Appellate division, first department.

Cohn had achieved an excellent record as a prosecutor of Communists before he caught the attention of Senator McCarthy and was engaged as counsel to the committee. In that role, because of his knowledge of Communists and their methods and ramifications, he was worth a dozen or a hundred other lawyers of high professional quality but without a special knowledge of a subject which is almost esoteric.

He had sent Frederick Vanderbilt Field to jail for contempt, an important coup considering that Field was a rich man and the old roommate of Joe Barnes, the actual editor for some years of The New York Herald Tribune, although his official title was "foreign editor." He had compelled the State department to get rid of 39 persons at the United Nations. He had taken a leading part in the prosecution of the traitor Rosenbergs who went to the electric chair in Sing Sing. He ran the grand jury inquiries of the batch of so-called second string Communists. They were convicted after the usual insults and painful difficulties. He had worked on the William Remington case from inception to the prison gates.

There has been a continuing campaign of lies, harassment, conspiracy and personal abuse, amounting to extreme persecution, against all public men and most journalists who have fought this treachery. Drew Pearson was a leading propagandist in this pattern. The employer of at least two Reds, himself, proven to have been a liar without conscience, Pearson had crippled the old Dies committee by hammering away at Robert Stripling's draft board until the board finally called him up.

Stripling spent a whole year as "yard bird" in the army without even a squad to call his own and when he finally was on the point of being released after V-J day mysterious forces tried to send him to Japan for an unlimited time on the ground that he would be an invaluable asset to General MacArthur in his dealings with the Reds. Stripling knew no Japanese Reds but he knew almost all there was to know about Reds in Washington including Pearson's Red employees and proteges of Felix Frankfurter, who was the crony of Gene Meyer of The Washington Post.

One colonel wrote an indiscreet letter expressing fear of abuse by Pearson in print and on the air if Stripling should be discharged. However, Stripling managed to get the ear of old John Rankin, the Mississippi Democrat and a few other inveterate Red-baiters and to put to some pro-American press the proposition that it was mighty funny that a man of such great potential value to MacArthur had not been able to make even PFC in a whole year.

Stripling was returned to the house committee on un-American activities and presently bowed out with a nice nest-egg, the proceeds of a book relating his knowledge of the treason. He deserved it. He and his family could never be compensated for the cruelty inflicted on them by the Roosevelt regime and their covert Red agents and dupes in American journalism.

For G. David Schine I can offer just one coup which would justify an award of gratitude from the country. Here is an oversized earl, a pro-American kid of 27, a Harvard alumnus with a year's active service aboard transport ships of the American army, who suddenly realized that Americans really had a fight on their hands against not only the enemy himself but against the stupidity and often abusive ignorance of many other Americans of unquestionable loyalty. Schine's parents operate hotels in New York and Florida. Being wealthy, he could serve McCarthy's committee without pay and even carry his own expenses. He did.

The one feat of which I spoke was Schine's discovery of the fact that we were about to spend $10,000,000 on a radio station to fight the enemy with propaganda which was to be planted in a spot where it couldn't even peep because of metals in ground. The kid's alarm was confirmed and the station was not built there. Schine's reward was a call from his draft board and a campaign of espionage and slander. Pearson hounded him and this time his abuse has included filthy smears at Schine's personal morals. Eugene Meyer published this disgraceful stuff prominently, followed by an exhortation to the public to "read him every day in The Washington Post" and "hear him Sundays."

A few years ago, Schine wrote a pamphlet called "Definition of Communism" and spread many thousands of copies in hotels about the country. The army and navy and other government agencies also distributed many copies. But, because, being 6 feet 4 inches tall, he requires a shoe bigger than the quartermaster could furnish, Schine had to wear non-regulation shoes during his basic army training. That was scandalously exploited as special privilege. None of the same papers and column propagandists ever wrote a word about the special privileges given Eleanor Roosevelt's house-pet, Joe Lash or about John McCloy's testimony admitting official efforts in the highest quarters of the army to get him soft, safe jobs which incidentally, succeeded. Lash is now employed on the very paper which has been persecuting Schine as a man who got "special treatment" in that he was not compelled to go barefoot in winter.

All this is a foul, dirty deal to stop the McCarthy inquiry.

Observe the history of these maneuvers. J. B. Matthews was run out of the important job of chief investigator because he had truthfully remarked in a magazine article that protestant ministers were playing a dangerous part in the Red conspiracy. Eisenhower fell for this plant and Matthews was removed. But a few days ago, The New York Times, in a Rome cable from C. L. Sulzberger, a member of The Times' own royal family, reported that Communist penetration had extended even into "administrative circles" of the Vatican.

There was no furor over that.

The McCarthy inquiry is stopped now until McCarthy's own activities and Cohn's and Schine's have been "investigated" by other senators. Cohn is despondent. Schine is a hostage in the army of hostile politicians in White House and Pentagon.

Thirty-five members and guests of Circle D of the Methodist church enjoyed a turkey dinner on Thursday at the home of their president, Mrs. H. F. Ware.

The Rev. and Mrs. Sidney Bloomquist were guests at the dinner. The Rev. Bloomquist explained the canvas for Sunday and asked for workers.

Mrs. Bloomquist reported that the WSCS had organized twenty-two prayer circle groups, and members would be informed as to their meeting places. Two of these meetings are to be held, with a leader being selected for each group.

Mrs. H. F. Ware, president, opened the meeting with a prayer.

Mrs. Fred E. Ball, membership chairman, gave a summary of the pledges.

Notes of thanks were received from Mrs. Julia Beels, and Mrs. Vernon Mays.

Mrs. Ball presented the devotions using "Spring" as her topic. She closed her reading with a Lenten prayer.

The president announced that the WSCS spring luncheon will be held on April 1.

Mrs. George Walker, lesson instructor, stated that the WSCS would like to send a contribution to the children of migrant workers at Rochelle, and the meeting voted in favor of this. Following on this line of thought, Mrs. Walker called upon Mrs. P. W. Barger who spoke of her trip to Mexico.

Mrs. Paul Miller spoke on the TV showing of Mexican workers coming over our borders, and Mrs. Fred E. Ball spoke on Puerto Rico. Mrs. Ross Crawford took as her subject, the Cuban migrant workers at Tampa.

The April meeting of the Circle will be on April 29 instead of the regular meeting date.

The committee in charge of the day's program was given a vote of thanks by the members. They were: Mrs. Myron Willey, chairman, Mrs. B. R. Jacobson, Mrs. Julia Beels, Mrs. Leslie Coss, Mrs. Floy Hollenbeck, Mrs. James Ketchin, Mrs. Charles Swegle and Mrs. Lester Spencer.

At Hazelwood

"Triple Role"
That was his reaction to a Democratic suggestion that he step off the subcommittee. It was made Saturday night by a subcommittee member, Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), who said in a statement that if McCarthy wants to "appear in the triple role of accusing witness as well as prosecutor and judge" the Democrats will carry a fight against such an arrangement to the parent government operations subcommittee.
McCarthy also heads the full committee.
Symington said that if McCarthy doesn't step aside as a voting and cross-examining member and is upheld in this role, he will attempt to shift the inquiry to the senate armed services committee. He is a member of this group; McCarthy is not.
The McCarthy-army dispute focuses around Secretary Stevens' assertion that McCarthy and his subcommittee's chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn sought favored army treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine. Schine was an unpaid consultant to the committee before being drafted. Cohn disputed that.
McCarthy returned to Washington Sunday night from a four-day speaking trip in the Midwest.

Ogle Co. Women Gain Divorces

OREGON—(Special)—Judge Leon A. Zick granted two divorce decrees in Ogle circuit court here Saturday.
Mrs. Forrest Modler, Polo, was granted a divorce from Robert Modler on a charge of cruelty. The couple was married Nov. 15, 1952, and had no children.
Mrs. Mary J. Barnes, Rochelle, was granted a divorce from Donald W. Barnes, also on a charge of cruelty. Mrs. Barnes received custody of a minor child, and the court ordered Barnes to pay $10 per week child support. The couple was married Dec. 31, 1951.

Issue Licenses

Marriage licenses were issued Saturday in the office of Sterling D. Schrock, county clerk, to Robert M. Stevens, 26, Oregon, and Miss Beverly L. McCordie, 17, Nelson; Richard D. Parker, 23, Rock Falls, and Miss Rita M. Daniels, 18, Dixon.

Out Our Way

Find Plane Crash Story Just Phony

BOLZANO, Italy (AP)—The self-styled American sergeant who led more than 200 Italian troops around the Alps in a 24-hour search for a crashed American military plane admitted Sunday night his story was a phony.
Italian police at Vipteno, here in the Tyrol, identified the "sergeant" as a Polish refugee, Wladyslaw Kowalenko, 32. He told them he fled his homeland and donned an American uniform to make his crossing into Italy easier.
He did not explain how he obtained the uniform or why he dreamed up the story of the wrecked plane.
Identifying himself as Sgt. Jim Smithly of Chicago, he walked into the village of Campo di Trens, at the southern end of the Brenner Pass, Saturday. He said he had parachuted from a U. S. plane and had seen it falling with the pilot, "Lt. Jim Knott," still aboard.
He said he was a radio operator assigned to the 36th Attachment Air Base in Germany.
While Italian Alpine troops followed the Pole around the mountains, military authorities in Germany were contacted. They had never heard of a 36th Attachment Air Base, a missing plane, a Sgt. Smithly or a Lt. Knott. They sent Capt. William E. McKee of Sioux City, Iowa, and five other men of a rescue team from Fuerstentfeldbruck, Germany, to investigate.

Murder Trial Of Student Is Resumed

ALEDO, Ill. (AP)—The murder trial of James Gipson, 18, a high school student accused of fatally stabbing a teacher at Aledo High School Dec. 8, was resumed today.
The investigation didn't take long. McKee found "Smithly" spoke only a few words of English. He turned him over to police, who held him to investigate his presence in Italy.
Gipson is being tried in connection with the stabbing of George Marich, 26, in the corridor of the school. The teacher and track coach died shortly after he was stabbed.
Hollis and the defendant's brother Charles Gipson, 19, are charged with assault in connection with the incident.
Hollis testified, "After Marich summoned them (the two Gipsons and Hollis) into the corridor from the study hall, he (Marich) grabbed me by the back of the neck."
The youth added he released himself from the coach's grasp and heard James Gipson say, "don't hit any of us."
Hollis testified he did not see a knife at the time, but later did see a knife in Jim's hand. Hollis added:
"Charles and I both asked him to put the knife away."
Isador Katz, defense attorney, also questioned Charles Gipson at Saturday's hearing. Charles said he had touched Marich after the coach had warned the three boys in the corridor not to touch him. Charles said he saw a knife in Jim Gipson's hand, but the blade was not open.

Fake Prince Will Give Dance Concert

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"Prince Onaga of the Watusi of the Belgian Congo" disclosed a few days ago as plain Fred Williams of East St. Louis, Ill., will give his dance concert here after all.
For five years Williams and his Los Angeles-born wife gave "African song and dance concerts" in the United States and Canada, on national television shows, and even appeared in the movies—all as Prince Onaga and Princess Muana.
Williams freely admitted his big hoax when questioned by immigration officials at the request of the Belgian consul, who couldn't understand such a dignity not making a formal call.
Williams' No. 1 worry was about his scheduled concert April 6. A few hours later it was canceled.
However, publicity-conscious minds prevailed. The concert will be held, but moved up to Saturday night—before the public has time to forget.

Two Heirs in Street Estate

Letters of administration were issued today to Miss Evelyn C. Street, 520 N. Jefferson st., Dixon, in the $18,500 estate of her mother, the late Anna S. Street, Dixon, who died March 12.
Named in the petition for letters of administration as legal heirs were Evelyn C. Street and her sister, Mrs. Alice Street Bath, Nahant, Mass.
The estate amounts to $12,000 in real estate and $6,500 in personal property.

Dixon Men in Minor Crash

Cars driven by M. C. Lapp, Rt. 1, Dixon, and Willis Hugh Page, 919 Peoria av., were involved in a minor accident Saturday a half-mile west of Dixon on Alt. Rt. 30.
According to Lee County Sheriff John Stouffer, the mishap occurred as the Lapp car attempted to make a left turn. The Page vehicle, heading west behind Lapp, swerved into the ditch. Damage was limited to the right fender of the Page car.

Friend of Truman Is Convicted

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Paul Dillon, 76-year-old lawyer and friend of former President Truman, was sentenced today to 15 months in prison and fined $2,500 for evasion of $1,779 in federal income taxes for 1950-51.
Federal Judge Ruben M. Hulien ordered Dillon to surrender by March 29 to begin serving the prison term. The judge denied a request for a rehearing.
Long active in Democratic politics, Dillon served as campaign manager here for Truman in 1948, and when Truman was seeking his first term in the U. S. senate.

2-Headed Baby's Condition Critical

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The two-headed Hartley baby remained in fair but critical condition today for the fifth straight day with pneumonia on the left side.
The three-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hartley of Petersburg, Ind., was brought to James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for children here after oxygen treatment at home to the left head failed to relieve a breathing difficulty.
The two heads are on a pair of strong shoulders joined at the chest.

Winnebago Man Drowns In Florida

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Peter Roberts, 30, of Winnebago, Ill., drowned at Hillsboro Beach Sunday while testing an aqualung on the ocean floor.
His father-in-law, William W. Barton, narrowly escaped death while trying to rescue the younger man.
Police reported Roberts was exploring the ocean floor about 150 feet out. He was using the aqualung, often used in spear fishing.
When Roberts failed to surface, Barton, who was swimming nearby, dove into 10 feet of water and brought him to shore. Roberts was pronounced dead at North Broward General hospital, where Barton received first aid.

Public Aid Rolls Show An Increase

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—An increase in the Illinois public aid rolls during January was reported today by the Illinois Public Aid Commission.
Assistance payments totaled $11,060,998 for 259,393 persons. This was an increase of 9,541 recipients and $189,262 over December.
Poor relief rolls rose 9,279 recipients, bringing the January case load to 72,369. Payments amounted to $2,357,245.
The first increase since last April occurred in the aid to dependent children rolls which stood at 75,073 in January, a gain of 613 over December. Old age pension rolls dropped slightly but blind assistance and disability assistance showed increases.

Wanted: Easter Outfit to Show Off Her Tatoo

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mrs. Ralph H. Dolson took her 8-year-old daughter Suzie downtown to buy an Easter outfit.
"I don't want any just plain stuff," Suzie told her mother. "I want a dress like the dining room curtains. You know, with holes in what it's made out of."
They found only one dress—pale pink and lacy—which made Suzie's eyes shine.
He reason for a dress "with holes" were evident when she pranced out of the store's dressing room.
Four large red hearts drawn on her bare chest showed clearly through the lace. Completing the picture were a cupid's arrow and the words, "Suzie Loves Terry. Terry Loves Suzie."
Later at home, Suzie dolefully watched her lipstick tattoo go down the bathtub drain, and repeated:
"But that's what for I wanted the dress."
She has the dress, though.

Sterling Man Fined $10 Here

Harvey E. Mullan, Sterling, was fined $10 and costs Saturday for passing in a "no passing" zone.

Quad-City Printers Union Bomb Evidence to Jury

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—The state's attorney of Rock Island county today intended to present to the grand jury evidence of bombings and a reported unaccomplished plot to bomb presses in the Quad-Cities newspaper strike.
State's Atty. Bernard A. Moran announced during the weekend his intention of presenting the evidence.
About 125 printers, members of the AFL International Typographical Union, have been striking against four daily newspapers in the area since Dec. 15, 1952. Publication has continued, however, as other unions have continued to work.

Bomb Auto

Violence reached a climax July 9, when a bomb destroyed the automobile of A. F. Anderson Jr., composing room superintendent for the Rock Island Argus. A few minutes later a second bomb damaged the car of John Regan, secretary-treasurer of the Quad-Cities local of the AFL International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union of North America.
Four men have been charged with conspiracy in the automobile bombings. They are Alex MacLean of Rock Island, Anthony Geysens of Moline and George Grader of Davenport, all striking printers; and David D. Otter of Rock Island, a local secretary-treasurer of the AFL Teamsters Union.

The same four and Donald F. Conklin of Rock Island, a striking printer, have been charged with conspiracy to bomb the presses of the four newspapers involved, the Moline Daily Dispatch, the Davenport Daily Times and the Rock Island Argus.
Management's Views
Concerning the dispute, management says it involves:
1. Union insistence on the "right of veto," as management phrased it, of any new process of typesetting and any new kinds of composing room machinery or equipment.
2. The question of handling tape for teletypesetter machines produced outside the shops of the newspapers.
3. How to select a fifth member of a joint disputes settling committee.
The ITU says it wants "jurisdiction" over such new equipment or work, and that if any is introduced, management and the union shall meet immediately to "work out" or agree on how it is introduced. The ITU also demands that long-time union employees be given

Mt. Vernon Fan Dies at Radio

MOUNT VERNON, ILL.—Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Victor Vowell, 48-year-old post office employee who suffered a fatal heart attack at his home Saturday while listening to a radio broadcast of the state championship high school basketball game.
Vowell is survived by his widow, one son and one daughter. Mount Vernon won the state title by defeating DuSable of Chicago, 76-70.

President Handles News Conference Like a Vet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is handling his news conferences more smoothly than he did in 1953. He has had a year's experience, knows his job better, and has learned more about the realities of politics.

In recent weeks, perhaps as a natural development, he has seemed more direct and self-confident. And in this same period he has spoken out—always without mentioning names—in words widely interpreted as announcing a stand on Sen. McCarthy. But the Wisconsin Republican does not concede that Eisenhower is among his critics.

More Relaxed
Whatever the connection, if any, between McCarthy and Eisenhower's more positive attitude at news conferences, at least the President acts more relaxed, as a man might who had faced a hard decision and finally made it.

He is still as brisk as he was at his first news conference in 1953, and still just as friendly. And he still shakes his head in amazed amusement when a conference ends and newsmen hurtle through the door for a phone.

He can get emotional. And when he does his voice shows it. So does his suddenly flushed face. Then the words pour out. He was plainly angry two weeks ago in commenting on Adlai Stevenson's broadcast criticism of him.

Last year at times he seemed like a man who thought if he was just nice to everyone, everyone might be nice to him.

Begins To Learn
Perhaps in 1953, when he was beginning to learn his way around in politics the hard way, he felt that if he just stayed mild long enough McCarthy might go away.

But this year the Wisconsin Republican, starting at full speed with an investigation of communism in the Army, told a general he couldn't help questioning either the officer's honesty or his intelligence and got into a blazing dispute with Robert T. Stevens, Army secretary.

At first Eisenhower stayed in the background. Day after day newspapers prodded him to assert leadership and take a stand. He eventually did, but in stages, as McCarthy's relations with the Army became explosive.

No Names
In three successive news conferences Eisenhower used language that sounded like first a gentle and then a stern rebuke to McCarthy, and then backed up Stevens against the senator. True to his policy of mentioning no names, he never mentioned McCarthy's.

Dancing Mice Being Used in Cancer Study

BAR HARBOR, Maine (AP) — Mice that do a ballet step are the latest aides in the war on cancer.

Dr. Margaret Dickie today described discovery of a variety of mice that "pirouette" continually, just like a ballerina.

And she said that studies of this "ballerina mouse" not only offered opportunities for probing the cause of cancer but also such neuromuscular diseases as multiple sclerosis.

Dr. Dickie, of the Jackson Memorial Cancer Research Laboratory here, told about it at a conference with reporters making a nationwide tour of research projects sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

The mice constantly twirl or "pirouette" in contrast to the normal motion of a mouse, which is back and forth.

Dr. Dickie indicated that the study of this unusual motion might help determine what differentiates the normal cell from the malignant one, as in cancer.

Scientists of the Jackson laboratory told reporters that a million mice are bred there each year for various purposes, and that these constitute about three-fourths of all the mice used in cancer research throughout the nation.

Justice Douglas Leads Friends On Long Walk

ALONG THE C&O CANAL IN WESTERN MARYLAND—(AP)—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and a steadily dwindling party of hiking companions pushed forward today on their 184-mile walk to Washington, D. C.

At the end of their third day's journey lay Fort Frederick State Park and the only night of camping in the open the party plans before its scheduled arrival in Washington Saturday.

The group spent Sunday night at the Woodmont Rod and Gun club near Hancock, Md., 37 miles southeast of Cumberland, Md., where they started out Saturday morning.

Shows Beauty Spots
Douglas is seeking to demonstrate to two Washington editorial writers, and others who joined the group, that the natural beauties of the government-owned Chesapeake and Ohio Canal would be marred by construction of a proposed federal highway.

His challenge to the editorial writers, who favored the parkway, resulted in the eight-day journey.

In the first day of slogging over muddy trails, and in Sunday's blustery weather which included even a few snow flurries, the expedition shrank from 34 to about 25 who planned to continue today's leg of about 20 miles.

Pace Slows
The walking pace also slowed from an average of a little over four miles an hour the first day to three miles an hour Sunday. Liniment was being liberally applied to sore muscles Sunday night.

Korea Adopts Own Time Zone; Confuses

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea finally declared her independence from the Japan time zone and you should see the confusion.

The National Assembly, fiercely patriotic, carved out a Korean time zone a half hour behind the Japan zone. It went into effect Saturday.

Now appointments are confirmed with the question: "Japan or Korean time?" The 4 o'clock plane for Japan leaves at 4:30. And the 3 o'clock plane arrives at 3:30. International commuters and telephoners are having the time of their lives making connections.

Fifty years ago Japan ordered Korea to set her clocks on Japan time. It was done to simplify commerce. And while the political course between the two nations often was rough, they operated smoothly in a single time zone.

Now South Korea is back on its own time.

The U. S. State Department was the first to fall in line. International etiquette, one diplomat explained. How can you keep ap-

Vaccination At Birth Is Successful

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

CLEVELAND (AP) — Vaccinating babies minutes after they're born is safe, effective insurance against dangerous whooping cough and diphtheria, a family doctor finds.

The shots in the arm against these diseases usually aren't started until babies are three to six months old or more.

But Dr. Herbert D. Chamberlain, McArthur, Ohio, told today of good results from giving them as immediate birthday shots as part of the routine treatment of newborn babies.

Of 717 babies treated this way since 1948, not one has had whooping cough or diphtheria, even when other children in the family contracted these diseases, he says in an exhibit for the American Academy of General Practice.

Between 1943 and 1948 in his rural practice in Vinton County, Ohio, there had been 40 cases of whooping cough and 10 deaths among babies less than a year old, he said.

Since 1948, there has not been a single case of whooping cough.

except in one baby not inoculated at birth, he said.

He cited government statistics which show whooping cough kills more babies from 1 to 12 months old than all other diseases combined.

He gives the babies a standard vaccine combining protection against whooping cough, diphtheria, and tetanus, a main cause of blood poisoning.

A full treatment consists of three shots. The second is given when the baby is 6 weeks old, when the mother receives a checkup for recovery from childbirth. The third is given when the baby is 3 months old. Three-fourths of all the babies have had the full series, he said.

There are about 7 1/2 million widows in the United States.

Mt. Vernon Wins State Title

Happy Illinois State Champions

MT. VERNON PLAYERS ROUGH IT UP a bit while waiting presentation of their trophy as 1954 Illinois state high school basketball champions. Front row, left to right: Asst. Mgr. Ron Freeman, Gale Freund, Kim Driggers, Albert Avant, Don Richards. Back row: Larry Whitlock, Fred Deichman, Jerry Clark, George Mendenhall, Coach Harold Hutchins, Gene Brookman and Goff Thompson. (AP photo)

(What's the score today is written by Cliff Coughlin, Telegraph city editor, who attended the final sessions in person, and Norm Jollow, Telegraph sports editor, who enjoyed the contests on television.)

By CLIFF COUGHLIN
(Telegraph City Editor)

ONE OF THE INTERESTING SIDELIGHTS of the state tournament finals was the spirited bidding for tickets despite the fact that the semi-final and final games were televised statewide. Huff gym was packed and outside were the knots of scalpers and scalpees dickering over the price of tickets. The only effect television might have had on the crowd was the lessening of the jam by game time. By that time the overflow had drifted to the Armory or a downtown spot to view the contests.

DUSABLE, GOING INTO THE FINAL GAME, was the choice of the disinterested, while Mt. Vernon was the choice of all pro-Southern Illinois rooters. We leaned toward DuSable as a sentimental choice but took Mt. Vernon on a friendly bet—with 12 points!

Mt. Vernon was rated fifth choice to win the tournament in a poll of newsmen before the tournament began. So you can readily see that the Rams rose to new heights to go in the championship. Of course, they may have been a sleeping dog. From the outset, spectators at the early games tell us, there seemed to be nothing wrong with the Rams. They shot in championship style, rebounded the best of any team in the tournament, and were so sound that it was a wonder they had escaped the notice of the "experts."

THERE WAS A WIDE ARRAY of individual "greats." Paxton Lumpkin, DuSable's great guard, was the "old pro" of the lot and perhaps the most spectacular. His teammate, Charlie Brown, was the slickest of the forwards and Bob Gregor, Edwardsville, was a tremendous performer. Gene Pursell, a tournament all-star choice, perhaps lost some esteem in the semi-finals when his Pinckneyville team lost to Mt. Vernon. He lacked the ability to fire up the Pins in when the going got rough, but he's a highly capable, though uninspired player.

By NORM JOLLOW
(Telegraph Sports Editor)

BOTH MT. VERNON AND DUSABLE seemed somewhat less than fantastic in their shooting. Watching the final from our television screen, we could almost tell what shot would go in and what shot would miss. Those boys hit everything and anything from around the free throw line.

THE THING THAT WENT WRONG with DuSable's attack, as far as we could see, was that the Mt. Vernon Rams refused to crack under the pressure in the fourth period as DuSable's previous foes had.

Instead, the Rams looked just as calm when the fourth quarter started as they did when the game began. That and the early loss of Bryan Dennis on fouls, thus leaving DuSable in a sad predicament, cost the Panthers their quest for the first crown to Chicago in 47 years of state basketball.

THEY GAVE THE MOST VALUABLE PLAYER award to Paxton Lumpkin over which there could be no real quibbling. However, it would almost seem as though two awards were in order this year. If anyone was able to equal Lumpkin with value, it surely was Albert (they don't call him Al) Avant.

You may remember, that it was Avant who put the Rams in the tournament at all when he calmly sank two free throws after the game was over to put Mt. Vernon ahead of Mt. Carmel, 72-71, in the Harrisburg sectional final. And his play during the state tournament was about as razor sharp as Lumpkin's.

WHILE WE WERE DOWN at Huff gym Thursday, we had one rumor squelched and picked up another but it was also squelched. Harry Quilter, sports editor of the Ottawa Republican, said Gil Love was not planning to leave Ottawa at the end of this season. Quilter said he checked with Love after the rumor broke and quoted Love as saying it would be a dirty trick to leave now. Quilter said Ottawa will be down next season. To back up the contention, Quilter pointed out that Love had bought a home in Ottawa. He stated further that Love had not received any offers from colleges this year but had received them in previous years.

We also heard that George Dertinger of DeKalb was going to leave. But Jim Ketchum, DeKalb Chronicle sports editor, reported that there was no truth in this rumor.

PRINCETON'S JOE RUKLICK has been regarded as one of the outstanding players in the tournament, sparkling with his hook shots with either hand. And Joe will be back to pace the Tigers next year. He is a junior, though only 15 years old.

Peoria Takes AAU Crown; Wins, 63-55

DENVER—(AP)—The champion Peoria, Ill., Cats and runnerup Grithvala Buicks of San Diego, Calif., claimed 7 of the 10 berths on the all-star AAU Basketball Tournament team named by press and radio observers.

Peoria claimed its third straight AAU crown by turning back the upstarts from San Diego 63-55 Saturday night in the 47th annual tournament.

Four members of the unheralded California club won all-star honors: Glen Anderson, Ken Leslie, Joe Stratton and Jim Hovender. Named from the veteran Peoria roster were Frank McCabe, Ron Bontemps and Dick Retherford. Other choices were Frank Kuzara and Glen Smith, both of the third place Denver Central Bankers, and Chuck Darling of the Bartlesville, Okla., Phillips 66ers.

The title game saw Peoria in command except for a brief time in the third quarter, when San Diego surged to a 40-36 lead. Retherford, who canned 19 points, and Kirby Minter then delivered baskets to put Peoria ahead to stay.

Denver rolled over Fort Sill, Okla., 87-72, in the consolation game.

Rumor Bradley's Anderson May Go To Michigan State

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—A Bradley University spokesman says basketball coach Forrest Anderson will "visit with Michigan State officials shortly" on the possibility of becoming Spartan coach.

The spokesman, who asked that his name not be used, added:

"We would, naturally, dislike to see Fordy leave, but the prestige and salary that go with a position such as that at Michigan State are great inducements."

Anderson and his Bradley Braves were welcomed home by a crowd of 1,200 Sunday. They had just returned from Kansas City, where they finished second in the NCAA tournament, losing to LaSalle 92-76 in the championship game.

Amend College Free Toss Rule

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National basketball committee today revamped its one-and-one free throw rule and installed two halves playing time instead of the four quarter system.

The new free throw rule will allow one free throw on all common personal fouls and a bonus shot if the throw is made. This will apply to the first 37 minutes.

In the last three minutes two free throw will be given as in the 1953 rules.

The rule, the past two seasons, has allowed one free throw for common fouls and a second shot if the first was unsuccessful.

The changes, announced today, are designed to increase the penalty on the offender and put a premium on good shooting.

Rams Surprise DuSable, 76-70

Champs Display Remarkable Shooting, Poise in Triumph

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Remarkable shooting accuracy and poise characterized Mount Vernon's march through the state finals to the Illinois high school basketball championship.

These qualities, among others, stood out in the Mount Vernon 76 to 70 victory over DuSable of Chicago in their slam bang duel for the state crown Saturday night.

For the second straight year, Pinckneyville won third place honors, this time by whipping Edwardsville 54 to 42.

In the Saturday afternoon semi-finals, the new champions hammered Pinckneyville 70 to 44 and DuSable licked Edwardsville 89 to 73 in a contest that established three tournament records.

Two more records came out of the title game. One was Mount Vernon's capture of the crown a fourth time. The Rams carried off the trophy before in 1920, 1949 and 1950.

4-Game Total

The second was DuSable's point production over the four game tourney route. The Chicago lads ran their total to 326, or 16 more than LaGrange piled up in annexing the 1953 title.

The 89 to 83 DuSable triumph over Edwardsville wrote these new standards into the books:

1. Most points scored by a winning team. DuSable got one more than Freeport scored in walloping Decatur 88 to 60 in 1951.
2. Most points scored by a losing team. Edwardsville's total was one higher than Galesburg scored in bowing to Decatur 73 to 72 in an overtime during the 1945 tourney.
3. The highest combined total for two teams. The aggregate of 162 was nine more than when LaGrange beat DuSable 85 to 68 in 1953.

440 Average

In successive victories over Danville, Moline, Pinckneyville and DuSable, Mount Vernon posted a fine 440 team shooting average from the field, hitting on 96 of 218 basket attempts.

The Rams also turned in an excellent free throw mark, making 88 and missing 21 for 81 per cent. This was significant because Mount Vernon fouled less than each of its opponents, who averaged 12 gratis tallies at Ram expense to the 22 counted by the champs.

Only 49 personal fouls were charged against Mount Vernon as compared with 83 against its four adversaries.

The poise displayed by the Rams against DuSable, even when they were six points behind in the second quarter, was lacking in other teams the whirlwind Chicago crew met, and its absence contributed to their downfall.

Excellent rebounding. Another important factor for Mount Vernon was the excellent rebounding of Goff Thompson, who by repeatedly snatching DuSable misses off the boards deprived the Panthers of the numerous follow-up basket opportunities they got against other foes.

In consolation of its defeat in the title games, DuSable could claim the distinction of having advanced farther toward the crown than any other Chicago team in the tournament's 47 year history.

DuSable's loss was its first after 31 consecutive triumphs. Mount Vernon finished with 27 victories to go with reverses in the regular campaign by Marion, Edwardsville and Herrin.

Al Avant, Paxton Lumpkin On All-Tourney First Team

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Albert Avant, stylish 6 feet guard, represented Mount Vernon's state champions on The Associated Press all-tournament team in the Illinois prep basketball finals.

The other players given first team berths were Paxton Lumpkin and Charlie Brown of DuSable, Tom Payne of Quincy and Don Ohl of Edwardsville.

The honorary quintet was selected in balloting by 33 sports writers and sportscasters at the conclusion of the semifinals Saturday afternoon. Two points were counted for each first team vote and one of each second team pick.

Lumpkin, who also was chosen the tournament's most valuable player, was given 102 ballot points of the maximum possible 108. He was named for a second consecutive year.

Payne had 94 points, Avant 94, Ohl 85 and Brown 61.

The second team with point totals: Gene Pursell, Pinckneyville, 57; Bob Gregor, Edwardsville, 56; Shellie McMillon, DuSable, 52; Whitey Verstraete, Moline, 47, and Roy Dewitz, Barrington, 35.

Mt. Vernon Still Tingles With Victory

Only Town With Four State Titles In Its Showcase

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP)—Mount Vernon tried to settle down today but still tingled proudly with the realization that it stands alone as a producer of high school basketball champions.

When the town's Rams returned from Champaign Sunday with the 1954 Illinois prep crown, it marked the fourth such title for Mount Vernon. No other city can boast such a record.

Ram teams of 1920, 1949 and 1950 also were state champs.

The 1954 squad swept into town Sunday at the head of a procession of about 500 cars that stretched 10 miles. The champs were honored at a brief ceremony at the high school gymnasium. Those who jammed the building heard Coach Harold Hutchins say:

"We had a lot of backers up there and I want to say that makes it easier. You like to know you have somebody on your side when you go out and try to beat everybody in the state."

The Rams upset DuSable of Chicago 76-70 Saturday in the championship game of the state tourney.

Chicago-N. Y. Golden Glovers Clash Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—With the program cut from 16 to 8 fights, the New York-Eastern Golden Gloves team hoped to break an eight-year victory drought tonight when they take on the Chicago-Western glovers in the National Golden Gloves championships at Madison Square Garden.

Only one bout in each division from the 112-pound flyweights to the heavyweights, will clash in the windup of months of Golden Gloves competition across the country. The picked 16 will represent the cream of thousands of amateur hopefuls.

In the past, the Eastern and Western champions in each division met and the alternates in each division collided. The 16 bouts counted equally.

The champions won't necessarily clash tonight. Alternates may be picked over the titlists on the basis of training camp performances. The teams will be announced after the weigh-in today.

Spring Tilts Can Become Nightmares

Sunday Action Has Many Surprises; Some Pretty Poor

By RIP WATSON
AP Sports Writer

Baseball's spring training games don't count in the record books, and there are some days the boys are just as glad nobody's keeping tabs on them.

Days like Sunday, for example, when the highly paid major

leaguers came up with the following:

Twenty-three bases on balls in one game... a home run by a Cuban rookie in his first time at bat in organized baseball... a rookie who's played exactly 10 games in the majors installed as the Chicago Cubs regular shortstop... a 3-2 victory by Boston with a batting attack consisting of two hits, six walks in two innings and five St. Louis errors.

Standings Surprise

The standings themselves are surprising enough, with the Philadelphia Athletics, nobody's favorite to win the American League pennant, leading their league in the spring standings after a 7-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. And if the Pirates had won instead, they'd be leading the National Leaguers on percentage thus far.

The multiple bases on balls—seven below the major league record—came in Washington's 10-9 victory over Detroit. The winning run, as you might expect, was scored when Dick Marlow walked Clyde Volmer with the bases loaded. DuSable was "all business" in the end and two out in the ninth inning.

The Cuban rookie who made such a sensational debut was Angelo Toledo of the Chicago White Sox, but despite his efforts Cincinnati defeated the Sox 5-3.

Banks At Short

The new Cub shortstop is Ernie Banks, one of the first three Negroes ever to represent the team. He batted .314 in a brief trial last September and is close to .500 thus far this spring. This prompted the Cubs to trade their previous shortstop, Roy Smalley, to Milwaukee for pitcher Dave Cole.

Gerry Staley of the Cardinals pitched six innings of one-hit, scoreless ball against Boston, but the effort went for nothing when the Red Sox combined their second hit of the game, with six walks by Tom Poholsky and five Red Bird errors.

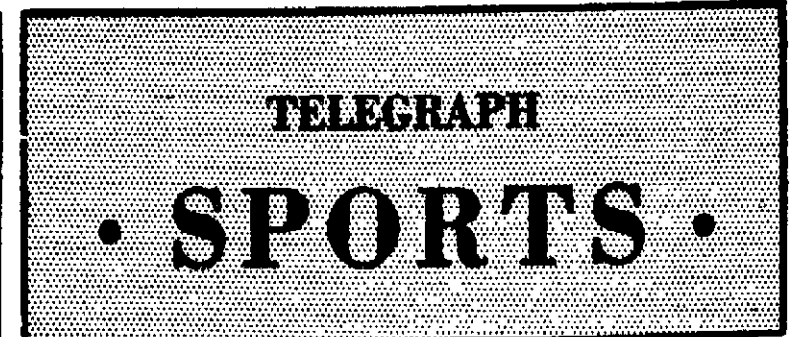

Spahn In Shape

Warren Spahn, the senior member of Milwaukee's pitching corps, retired 14 men in succession in the course of pitching seven scoreless innings against Philadelphia as the Braves walloped the Phillies 10-0. The left-hander gave up four hits and was followed by Jim Wilson, who allowed none in the last two innings.

The New York Yankees, who had absorbed two straight defeats at the hands of the Brooklyn Dodgers, finally whipped them 8-2.

Three-run homers by rookie Gosler Castleman and Henry Thompson insured the New York Giants' 5-1 victory over Cleveland, the first time in seven games that the Giants have whipped the Indians this year.

Tom Gola Leads LaSalle To NCAA Crown, 92-76

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Thanks to the magic touch of all America Tom Gola the LaSalle Explorers today reign as National Collegiate (NCAA) basketball champions.

The 6 foot 7 inch Gola won the most valuable player award hands down as he ignited LaSalle to a 30-point third quarter that dropped the Bradley Braves 92-76 in the finals before 10,500 at Municipal Auditorium Saturday night.

Penn State's Nittany Lions humbled Southern California, 70-61, for third place.

Gola was a unanimous choice for the all star team. Jesse Amelle, Penn State's great center, was second in balloting of the sportswriters and sportscasters. Other all stars were Charles Singley, LaSalle, Bob Carney of Bradley and Roy Irvin of Southern California.

Braves May Swap Smalley for Lopata

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Rumors of a trade between the Philadelphia Phillies and Milwaukee Braves said the Phillies would send catcher Stan Lopata to Milwaukee for infielder Roy Smalley. The Braves acquired Smalley only Sunday from the Chicago Cubs in a swap for pitcher Dave Cole and cash. Phillies officials had no comment on the report.

Coach Ken Loeffler's Explorers became the first team to win the tournament over the five game route. LaSalle started with an overtime victory over Fordham at Buffalo, then beat North Carolina State and Navy in the Philadelphia regional. The Explorers outclassed Penn State, 69-54, in the semifinals Friday.

Bradley, unsuccessful finalist in the 1950 tournament, appeared the better team through two quarters.

The only person in Dixon that I know who said before the Illinois State high school basketball tournament started that Mt. Vernon was going to be the champion was Dave Ames. I'm sure his feeling was more sentimental than rational, since before moving to Dixon four years ago, Mr. Ames was a Mt. Vernon resident.

One has to admire that Mt. Vernon team for the poise they possessed even in an underdog role. They were cool, they made a good percentage of their shots, they were on the boards, and it all resulted in a great triumph over an exceptionally fine DuSable team. DuSable was "all business" in the end and two out in the ninth inning.

The Cuban rookie who made such a sensational debut was Angelo Toledo of the Chicago White Sox, but despite his efforts Cincinnati defeated the Sox 5-3.

Jap Newspaper Criticizes U.S. For A-Burns

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's biggest newspaper today criticized American treatment of 23 fishermen burned by radioactive ashes from a secret U. S. H-bomb test March 1 and urged U. S. doctors to give assurances the 23 "are not guinea pigs."

The Tokyo newspaper Asahi urged the United States to reveal to Japanese physicians the materials used in the blast, but said: "Presumably the United States doesn't want to disclose military secrets."

The fishermen's boat was caught in a two-hour shower of ashes from the massive explosion in the Bikini test area.

Scientists and doctors of the U. S. Atom Bomb Casualty Commission

(ABCC) at Hiroshima—American and Japanese—have entered the case.

Dr. Masau Tsuzuki, chief physician for the fishermen, said: "We have gained practically all data necessary for treating the patients."

He said his patients are not in danger of death at present but "we can't tell what it will be ultimately."

Use of butter in the United States declined from 18.2 pounds per person in 1932 to 8.7 pounds per person in 1953, while use of oleomargarine increased from 1.6 pounds to 8.2 pounds.

Rattler Kills Snake Hunter Who Liked 'Em

WACO, Tex. (AP) — A 4½-foot rattler killed a veteran snake hunter who once called fear of snakes "nonsense."

J. Ed Johnson Jr., an authority on reptiles who long had watched the habits of the deadly rattler, died in a hospital here Sunday night 6 hours and 15 minutes after the rattlesnake sank its fangs into his hand.

It happened as Johnson and two friends hunted snakes in the Brazos River bottomlands 30 miles south of here.

Snake hunting was Johnson's hobby. He was Waco's city controller but had gained note as an expert on reptiles. He had tracked snakes more than 30 of his 48 years.

He had shipped thousands of reptiles to museums.

He once said, "Fear of snakes is nonsense."

Sunday he and his two companions spotted four rattlers — all more than four feet long — in a deep ravine. One rattler was behind a rock.

John Sparks pinned it down. As Johnson started to slip a loop over its head, the snake sprang free and bit Johnson on the back of his hand. He jerked his hand away with such force the fangs stuck in the flesh.

It was 2 hours and 15 minutes before Johnson reached the hospital.

He once said, "I like people, but snakes are more interesting."

Man, 70, Killed In Chicago Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — A 70-year-old man was killed Sunday in an extra alarm fire that caused an estimated $75,000 damage to three buildings near the downtown district.

The victim was identified as Alex Koot, a pensioner. About 20 other persons were routed by the fire, which broke out in the LeRoy Manufacturing Co. plant at 1224 W. Madison St. and spread to an adjacent factory and a four-story apartment hotel.

Chief Fire Marshal John Haberkorn, who estimated the damage, said the cause of the fire was undetermined.

Businessmen, Lawmakers Disagree on 'Recession'

Democrats Want Action Now; CED Sees No Danger Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The argument among businessmen economists and lawmakers over the economic state of the nation ran along these lines today: Should the government do something drastic to stimulate business, now, perhaps later, or at all?

Now said two Democratic senators, Hill of Alabama and Douglas of Illinois, in separate interviews Sunday.

Only when there is a "recession of some severity" actually in existence or "forecast with a high degree of certainty," said the committee for Economic Development (CED). And members of CED, a private but influential organization of businessmen and economists, said at a news conference Sunday such a time has not yet arrived.

General Agreement
There was general agreement that tax cuts and public works programs offered ways in which government might attack a recession when the time was deemed ripe.

Hill said the economic indices meant to him that "the situation is definitely getting worse and the administration ought to move with a program of public works in which the state and local communities could participate."

Douglas, renewing his advocacy of tax cuts, came out Sunday night for further exercise slashes and said, "I certainly hope the administration does not wait too long to act."

But the CED in a policy statement said involving such measures against "small, short and uncertainly forecast recessions" carried a danger of delayed effects. It said:

"The stimulating effect would probably not start until the need for it had passed and would continue even though it created a danger of inflation."

Prescribes "Cures"

For mild business declines or those in the early stages, the CED report prescribed such devices as "increasing the supply of money, easing of credit and lowering of interest rates."

Some action along this line already has been taken through the government's fiscal agencies.

CED said that if the time should come for stronger action, a temporary cut in federal taxes, ordinarily but not necessarily through an across-the-board cut in income taxes, could be the most immediately effective means.

DuSable High Bus Hits Car, Two Injured

ASHKUM, Ill. (AP) — A bus returning the DuSable High School basketball team to Chicago collided with an automobile here Sunday, seriously injuring the two occupants of the car.

Rabbi and Mrs. Herman M. Cohen of St. Paul, Minn., who were riding in the car, were taken to Central Hospital at nearby Clifton.

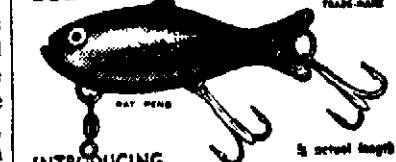

The 31 basketball players, coaches and faculty members, homeward bound from the Illinois high school tournament at Champaign, were shaken up, but no one was seriously injured.

The bus was less than two hours out of the University of Illinois campus, 59 miles south, where the DuSable team had taken runnerup honors in the tournament.

A spokesman at Central Hospital said Rabbi Cohen suffered a fractured leg and other injuries. His wife received lacerations of the scalp, multiple abrasions and contusions.

Coach, Injured In Auto Crash, Is 'Improved'

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — Arthur Scher, one of four Chicago basketball coaches injured Friday night in an auto collision, is reported "slightly improved but still on the critical list" at Carle Clinic in Urbana.

The 54-year-old Sullivan High School coach suffered a crushed chest in the accident. The car he was riding in collided with one driven by William Clark Jr., 22, of Rockford, at a highway junction about four miles north of Urbana.

The other three coaches were slightly injured and have been released from the clinic. They are Harry Pritikin, 33, of Bowen High School; Oscar L. Brothman, 42, Phillips High School; and Maurice Swiryn, 39, of Lake View High School.

The four men were driving to the state basketball tournament at Champaign when the crash occurred.

Marriage Formula, Biscuits and Love

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — After 60 years of marriage, Mrs. W. I. Basinger gave her formula for a successful union.

"I give him lots of loving and set a hot plate of biscuits before him every day."

Dr. Basinger added, "I give her lots of loving too."

For the third time, the Basingers repeated their wedding vows before a minister. They had a similar ceremony on their golden anniversary 10 years ago.

"This marriage is bound to stick because you know the third time is a charm," Mrs. Basinger said.

Three Sailors Die As Fire Sweeps Danish Freighter

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A flash fire swept the sleeping quarters of the 5,000-ton Danish freighter Gudrun Maersk Sunday, killing three of the crewmen.

The fire was discovered shortly before dawn. The ship was berthed here.

Eleven men were asleep in the crew's quarters at the time. Eight fire companies, a fireboat, and other emergency equipment fought the fire for an hour before it was brought under control.

In 1837, the U. S. Treasury had 25 million dollars in excess revenue which is distributed to the states.

Dairy Farmers Vote 'Level' Production

CHICAGO (AP)—Dairy farmers producing for the Chicago market are aiming to level out the peaks and valleys of their production.

At the annual meeting of the Pure Milk Assn., whose some 16,500 members supply much of the Chicago area, delegates cast their voting strength Saturday about 12,000 to 3,400 in favor of a level production plan.

A spokesman explained that under the plan producers would be paid a blend, or pool, price for their milk during the eight months July through February. Each producer would set his own production base in the four months August through November.

This base would be used during the four months March through June to measure his production.

For any surplus production above his base, he would be paid about 40 cents a hundred pounds less than the base price. This would tend to hold production down in the periods of normally excess supply of milk and dairy products, it was added.

To implement the voting action, the association will ask Secretary of Agriculture Benson for a hearing in Chicago soon to consider amending the federal marketing order which governs the handling and sale of milk in the Chicago area.

BURIED IN OAKWOOD

Many Rockford and Dixon friends attended funeral services Saturday in Rockford and graveside rites in Oakwood cemetery, Dixon, for Harold Rowland who died last Wednesday in an automobile accident after an evening spent at the Masonic Temple in Dixon.

Funeral services were held in Rockford, members of the Masonic order in which Mr. Rowland was a member. Mr. Rowland was born in Dixon.

Senatorial Candidates Back Red Investigations

Remain Unshaken in Their Belief Probes Necessary

CHICAGO (AP)—The set-to-be between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and top army officials has not shaken Illinois' nine Republican candidates for the GOP U. S. senator nomination from the belief that congressional investigation of Communist activities is necessary.

Some of the candidates say there is need for improvement of the investigative machinery.

Park Livingston, LaGrange businessman and attorney, said today that "communism is a cancer and must be removed." But, he added,

"I don't think it's necessary to carry out the surgery with a double-bladed meat axe. The malignancy of communism must be wiped out but I prefer safer surgical methods."

Obtain Comments

Comments upon the present legislative investigation were obtained from the senatorial candidates in response to an Associated Press poll.

John B. Crane, Chicago writer on economics, said "I feel the vigorous investigation of subversion in government should be continued unabated, with fair and equitable methods of inquiry being followed at all times. Of course, McCarthy has made mistakes, but he is helping weed dangerous subversives out of government posts."

Edgar M. Elbert, Maywood insurance agent, said "I believe numerous congressional committees have done a good job. However, in view of their being investigator, prosecutor, judge and jury, I believe very strict rules should be formulated and strictly adhered to."

Wants Continuance

Austin L. Wyman, Glenview lawyer, "I would oppose any measure curtailing congressional responsibility to unearth facts on any subject. At the same time, the rights of the individual must always be protected, and the legislative and judicial branches of government must be kept separate. I would favor concentrating investigation in particular fields so as to avoid duplication of investigative bodies."

Joseph T. Meek, Western Springs

'Freedom Light' Marks Birthplace Of Republicanism

RIPON, Wis. (AP)—A "freedom light" burned brightly today atop a 10-foot standard in this little central Wisconsin community and will continue to burn forever. Republicans say, as a symbol of America's independence and liberty.

The light is gas fed and is enclosed in a glass globe atop a wooden structure in front of the little white school house where the Republican party came into being on March 20, 1854.

The torch is similar in design to one that is said to have been lit in front of the same school house by Alvan Earle Bovay as he called a meeting here in 1854. That meeting is believed to have led to the founding of the Republican party.

It was lighted at a re-enactment of the historic ceremony of 100 years ago when 53 men gathered at the school to express dissatisfaction with policies of the Whigs, Democrats and Free Soilers of the day concerning their stand on slavery.

The average depth of U. S. underground coal mines is about 190 feet.
